Round 9 of the 2004 Larkspeed League took place at a new site for YSCC's autotest . A disappointing 20 competitors completed 24 excellent tests set out over the spacious site. Dust for the second event was the problem and anyone without a window soon experienced a taste of the course. The loose surface like the previous event favoured Ilkley again, who took overall victory . The win has made Ilkley 400 points clear with one round left. The battle is therefore for the remaining places with Alwoodley out of the top ten and the likelihood of Malton running the tenth round next year. The final round is Alwoodley's autotest on the 7th November. Regs are now out and we look forward to seeing you there.
