The eighth round of the 2005 Yorkshire League was Alwoodley's Autotest. After a long delay since the last event in august, it was good to see the event attracted 28 entries to battle it out at Rufforth airfield. With the summer now well and truly gone, a good home event score saw Alwoodley top the table and move off the bottom of the league to now sit in twelfth position. With now only one event left, due to the non-running of York's event, a good run at Beverley's night rally could see them in the top ten. Many thanks to those competitors who did compete. To those who missed out, don't miss the last event on the weekend of the 26/27th November.
